Committed to Your Privacy

The IHSC is committed to our users' privacy. This privacy statement covers all information provided to us including information provided on the site www.IHSCouncil.com, a web property of IHSC.

Personal Information

Personal information collected by the IHSC is for the sole use of the IHSC and will not be given away, sold or displayed to others for any reason with the exception of information provided for shipping and billing purposes. Though we make every effort to preserve user privacy, we need to disclose personal information required by law or in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary in order to conform to the edicts of the law or comply with legal process served on our website.

Aggregated Tracking Information

The IHSC analyses visitors' use of our website by tracking information such as downloads, page views, traffic flow, search terms and click-through rates. This information is used to improve our website. We may also share or publish this anonymous traffic and demographic information in aggregate form. We will not share or publish any information that can identify an individual user.

Links to Other Websites

The IHSC website contains links to other sites. The IHSC is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of such other sites. We encourage users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every website that collects personally identifiable information.
